STRUGGLE BEGINS, RUSSIA HORRIFIED

Hundreds Slain in Provinces---Municipal Officers Given Unlimited Power.

GOVERNMENT FEARS BATTLE AND IS PREPARING FOR THE CLASH

Peasants Burn 30 County Seats---"White Terror" Believed to Have Returned.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 18.—A shudder of horror has convulsed Russia. The government claims it has given battle only to the "red" revolutionists, but the populace generally believes that the "white terror" has returned. Already the leaders of the proletarian organization who escaped capture Saturday night at the economic society, and even men of the rank of Prof. Minkoff, are in hiding from the police, who are hunting them down. The government evidently anticipates a battle royal, and has made its dispositions accordingly. It fully understands that proletarian will give blow for blow in answer to the wholesale arrests.

The Workmen's Council and the League of Leagues Saturday night issued a declaration of a general strike to begin immediately, and consequently by an imperial ukase all governors-general, governors and prefects throughout the empire who are sent off by telegraph are clothed with almost dictatorial powers, being authorized, without consulting St. Petersburg, to declare a state of siege, and if necessary even martial law. As most of the provincial authorities are reactionary officials of the old regime, the advantage they will take of such power to terrorize the populace can be easily imagined, they being in position to become petty tyrants and wage war each in his own particular fashion against the revolutionists.

Witte May Resign.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 18.—A report that Count Witte has resigned is in circulation, but it is false. It may, however, become true at any moment as Gen. Count Alexei Ignatieff is being held in reserve.

A close friend of the premier says that Count Witte had no faith in the policy of Minister of the Interior Durnovo, and only consented to it on the condition that it should be confined to legal means. The same informant says that an official communication declaring a resort to legal measures to be the policy of the government will be issued today. It is the opinion of many liberals, as well as revolutionaries, that "with the first discharge of cannon Count Witte will go."

Casualties in Provinces.
Berlin, Dec. 18.—Dispatches from the frontier report the following casualties in the Baltic provinces.
Riga, seven hundred killed and fifteen hundred wounded.
Mitau, two hundred killed and six hundred wounded.
Dorpat, one hundred and fifty killed and four hundred wounded.
Shavily, fifty killed and many wounded.
Wenden, forty killed and one hundred wounded.
Wolmar, two hundred killed and one hundred wounded.

30 Towns Destroyed by Peasants.
St. Petersburg, via Eydtikhunan, Dec. 18.—Thirty county seats in northern Livonia were burned by peasants, and clergymen in the districts that will likely come in. Possible towns are Evansville, Ind., and Terre Haute, Ind., but they are not at all certain. It is almost a positive fact that next season the circuit will be composed of eight cities instead of six as heretofore, and they will all be first-class baseball cities.

Meeting of the Kitty League Will Be Held in St. Louis in About Two Weeks

President Charles Brown will call a meeting of the K. I. T. league early next month, probably the second Sunday in January, and the place of meeting will be St. Louis.

All cities that have signified a desire of coming into the league will be notified of the meeting so they may have representatives there. The reason the meeting will be held there is that there is to be a change in the circuit next season.

OTHER BANKS STAND BY THEM.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The Chicago National bank, the Home Savings and the Equitable Trust company, have been suspended.

The announcement was made this morning by representatives of the clearing house, after a session lasting 18 hours.

The assets of these institutions it was asserted, are involved in coal mining property.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The Chicago National bank, the Equitable Trust company and the Home Savings bank all of Chicago, and all under one roof, and practically under the same management, closed their doors this morning. The president of the Chicago National Bank and of the Equitable Trust company is very largely interested in railroads and in coal properties. It is announced that the investments of his institutions in the securities of the railroads and coal properties have been so large, that it has been impossible to realize on them when occasion required it.

These institutions have been the leading factors in the very large consolidations of coal properties that have been taking place during the last year throughout Indiana and Illinois, which consolidations absorbed millions of dollars. The Chicago Clearing House association which is composed of the leading banks of Chicago, very promptly pledged their combined assets to secure the depositors in the failed banks.

This has had the effect of allaying all alarm and it is thought no further troubles will occur.

John R. Walsh, the president of the Chicago National bank, is owner of the Chicago Chronicle.

The Chicago National bank is capitalized at a million, and has fourteen millions deposits.

The Home Savings bank has deposits of almost four millions.

The Effect in New York.
New York, Dec. 18.—The failure of the Chicago banks naturally had a bad effect on the speculative markets and stocks opened weak the lower average losses ranging from one to two percent. Amalgamated copper had a few very bad minutes, and ten thousand shares were quickly dumped on the market, presumably by the Lawson pool. It dropped to 93 1/2 when steady orders came, and the general market rallied.

The President Resigns.
Chicago, Dec. 18.—John R. Walsh resigned as president of the Chicago National bank today, and is succeeded by Charles S. Bosworth, the national bank examiner whose investigation brought about the crash. He will be at the head of the organization which will administer the affairs of the banks, all of which will be liquidated.

BOY USES PISTOL.

Shot a Companion in the Shoulder
This Afternoon.

Jesse Tillman, colored, about 14 years old, was arrested this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock by Officer Johnson and Rogers for malicious shooting.

The Tillman boy and another colored boy, Gladys McFadden, younger than Tillman, were playing at the colored school, corner Eighth and Ohio streets. They got into a dispute, it is said, and Tillman pulled a small pistol loaded with lead, one of the holiday weapons, and shot the boy in the shoulder. The bullet did not go in far and the wound is not serious.

The Tillman boy was locked up pending an investigation, being unable to give bond.

LOVE AFFAIR

Caused Mary Bram to Leap Into the River.

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 18.—Miss Mary Bram committed suicide this morning by leaping from the Middlebury street bridge into the river. Despondency over love affairs is said to be the cause.

PRESIDENT MORTON

Appeals to Policy Holders to Protect Their Interests.

New York, Dec. 18.—An appeal to the policy holders in all the states of the union to lend assistance in preventing adverse legislation has been made by President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance society in a circular letter which is being sent to policy holders. President Morton says that insurance business is certain to be the subject of great consideration by the legislature soon to convene as the result of what has been printed and said about insurance during the last six months. He says:

"The society depends upon the policy holders to see that no unreasonable legislation is enacted. I may from time to time call attention to measures calculated to do them harm, but under no circumstances will I be party to any corrupt methods of preventing 'strike' legislation. We aim to meet all just requirements of every state and the government and rely upon our policy holders to see no injustice done them."

"Any unfair insurance law or unfair insurance tax measures enacted by your state legislature injures you and reduces the dividend earnings of your policy."

BIG CONCERT

Will Be Given By Prof. Harry Gilbert's Orchestra Dec. 23.

Prof. Harry Gilbert has completed arrangements for a big concert to be given by his orchestra of twenty men at the Kentucky theater on the afternoon of the 23rd, Christmas day, and expects to have a heavy patronage of music lovers.

The concert is to be given for the benefit of the organization for the purpose of buying music. The members of the Daughters of the American Revolution will assist in the sale of tickets and it is hoped the concert will be well patronized.

Prof. Gilbert has worked hard to get together an orchestra of this size which will stick and his efforts should be appreciated and a liberal patronage given. An excellent program of standard numbers interspersed with popular melodies and operatic selections will be arranged.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA

Police Commissioner R. B. Sutherland
Has Not Decided Whether He Will Remain.

Police and Fire Commissioner R. B. Sutherland will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles, Cal., with his daughter, Miss Louise Sutherland, who is suffering from lung trouble, and goes there for her health. Mr. Sutherland is undecided as to whether or not he will return to Paducah. He has a pass that is good for 60 days and stated this morning that if he decided to remain in California after he got there, he would send in his resignation as fire and police commissioner. He has been on the board ever since it was organized.

USUAL GIFT

Bendheim Brothers Send Order for 1,200 Bushels of Coal.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser this morning received from Bendheim Brothers, Louisville, their annual gift of 1,200 bushels of coal for the poor of Paducah. The generosity of these former Paducahans has for years made glad the hearts of Paducah's poor, as every year they send 1,200 bushels of coal.

Mayor Yeiser has not yet made any arrangements for a distribution of the coal, but part of it will doubtless be given out through the Charitable club.

Shipped to Cincinnati.

The remains of John Auer, a brother of the Rev. Father Auer, of St. Johns, this county, are being shipped today to Cincinnati for burial. He died May 4, 1902, from appendicitis and the remains were temporarily interred at St. Johns. When opened today at the undertaking establishment of Nance & Poole the remains were in a fair state of preservation.

Death At Boaz.

Mr. Klu Wilkins, of Boaz Station, aged 65, and a Confederate veteran, died from pneumonia and was buried at White Grove. His wife died only a short time ago.

Council Meets Tonight.

The council will hold its regular meeting this evening at the city hall with a great deal of business on hand. None of it will be of unusual importance, however.

COUNTY ROAD REPORT READY FOR COURT

Supervisor Bert Johnson Makes
a Fine Showing for Year.

Fiscal Court Meets Tomorrow to Discuss New Jail and New Court House.

A SETTLEMENT WITH SHERIFF.

Fiscal court will meet in regular session tomorrow morning for the purpose of settling with the sheriff and county treasurer, and taking action in other important matters pertaining to the county.

Justice R. J. Barber, county commissioner, has checked up Sheriff Lee Potter and will this afternoon finish checking up County Treasurer James Utterback, who also has charge of the sinking fund. These settlements will be presented for ratification tomorrow and this will be the extent of the financial business except possibly the allowance of accounts, salaries, etc., which is routine business.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has prepared his report for the year's work and shows a great deal of new work done in new grave roads.

The report shows all new gravel road work to date but the work on old roads extends no later than November 1st. The report is as follows:

New gravel road to date:

Work on new roads, $11,352.67
Work on old roads to Nov. 1, $14,270.76
Total, $25,625.43

Last year no new roads were built but the total cost of road work to the county amounted to $20,000. The work this year has been great and the expenses kept down to a minimum.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, has returned from St. Louis and stated this morning that he had received no reply from Nashville, where he had written relative to the methods employed in building the jail and court house in Nashville, but that he understood the plan and would present it to the court for action. He feels sure the board will order him to go ahead for any proposition he can get to report back to the board.

The plan is to buy a site centrally located, give it to a southern company making this a specialty, and the company will build a big office building, setting aside a part of it for a modern court house and jail and fitting it out in the best style.

STOLEN BICYCLE RECOVERED.

Recovered and Tom Tramwell Arrested for the Theft.

A lost bicycle was recovered today and Tom Tramwell, colored, who works at the St. Nicholas hotel, is in the lockup charged with having stolen it and disposed of it.

The bicycle was identified by Henry Ogilvie, white, of Sixth and Madison streets. He said he lost the wheel several weeks ago. The first purchaser of the wheel is said to have been Richard Simons, who identified Tramwell as the man who sold it to him. Simons in turn sold it to Milton Brooks, colored, and the wheel was brought to the hall to be identified.

Tramwell stated that he did not know anything about the wheel; had never seen it and that Simons was mistaken in his man.

Tramwell was locked up, being unable to give bond. The case will come up tomorrow morning in police court.

A U. S. GUN

Was Found in Possession of Russia
—How Did She Get It?

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 18.—The army transport Thomas, just arrived from the Orient, brought home a piece of artillery which originally belonged to the United States but which was found in the possession of the Russian forces at Port Arthur when the Japanese captured that stronghold.

The government of Japan, when they discovered the ownership of the gun, turned it over to U. S. Minister Griscom, who shipped it from Nagasaki, consigned to the arsenal at Benicia. The field piece is stamped inside the barrel, "Watervliet Arsenal, $29 pounds, No. 209, J. W. J."

The military authorities here are now wondering how this particular gun got into the hands of the Russians.

FIVE KILLED.

In Explosion of Nitroglycerine at Michigan Dynamite Works.

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 18.—Five men were killed by an explosion at the Dupont company's dynamite work here. About 1,400 pounds of nitro-glycerine exploded in the mixing house, which is three miles distant from Marquette.

The explosion badly damaged the plant and caused much excitement in Marquette.

The dead are all workmen employed by the Dupont company. The men were blown into shreds. Of the thirty buildings in the plant few escaped damage, and some were badly wrecked.

1,000 YEARS

Given an Aged Cattle Thief in the Lone Star State.

Galveston, Tex., Dec. 18.—Mat Porter, aged 78, charged with cattle theft, was convicted at Victoria, and the jury assessed his punishment at 1,000 years in the penitentiary. As he is already in a somewhat decrepit state of health, the prisoner can not live very much longer. The jury wished to give Porter the heaviest sentence, as he has been responsible for numerous cattle thefts in that community, but heretofore it has been almost impossible to secure the necessary evidence to convict him.

USING FORCE

In Connection With Chinese Boycott Agitation.

Shanghai, Dec. 18.—Serious rioting occurred here at the instigation of leaders of the foreign boycott and as a result of the trouble, the German consul was stoned yesterday. The American vice-consul has been injured and several other foreign officials left the city.

$2,000 FINES.

Were Assessed in the "Brick Trust" Cases.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—The "Brick Trust" cases came to an unexpected end today when pleas of guilty were entered on behalf of the defendants and fines of two thousand dollars each were assessed and paid in cash.

Yadkee Girls in Peril.

Constantinople, Dec. 18.—Harton Hall, the American college for girls in the suburb of Sentarl, was partially destroyed by fire. The students, including a number of boarders, were in bed when the flames were discovered. All the inmates were rescued.

During the night huge carriages, drawn by four horses were seen passing through the streets carrying prisoners to the prison fortresses. A general revolt of the army is expected.

HIG CONCERT Will Be Given By Prof. Harry Gilbert's Orchestra Dec. 25.

Prof. Harry Gilbert has completed arrangements for a big concert to be given by his orchestra of twenty men at the Kentucky theater on the afternoon of the 25th, Christmas day, and expects to have a heavy patronage of music lovers.

The concert is to be given for the benefit of the organization for the purpose of buying music. The members of the Daughters of the American Revolution will assist in the sale of tickets and it is hoped the concert will be well patronized.

Prof. Gilbert has worked hard to get together an orchestra of this size which will stick and his efforts should be appreciated and a liberal patronage given. An excellent program of standard numbers interspersed with popular medleys and operatic selections will be arranged.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA Police Commissioner R. R. Sutherland Has Not Decided Whether He Will Remain.

Police and Fire Commissioner R. R. Sutherland will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles, Cal., with his daughter, Miss Clancy Sutherland, who is suffering from lung trouble, and goes there for her health. Mr. Sutherland is undecided as to whether or not he will return to Paducah. He has a pass that is good for 60 days and stated this morning that if he decided to remain in California after he got there, he would send in his resignation as fire and police commissioner. He has been on the board ever since it was organized.

USUAL GIFT.
Bernheim Brothers Send Order for 1,200 Bushels of Coal.

Mayor D. A. Velsor this morning received from Bernheim Brothers, Louisville, their annual gift of 1,200 bushels of coal for the poor of Paducah. The generosity of these former Paducahans has for years made glad the heart of Paducah's poor, as every year they send 1,200 bushels of coal.

Mayor Velsor has not yet made any arrangements for a distribution of the coal, but part of it will doubtless be given out through the Charity club.

COUNTY ROAD REPORT READY FOR COURT

Supervisor Bert Johnson Makes
a Fine Showing for Year.

Fiscal Court Meets Tomorrow to Discuss New Jail and New Court House.

A SETTLEMENT WITH SHERIFF.

Fiscal court will meet in regular session tomorrow morning for the purpose of settling with the sheriff and county treasurer, and taking action in other important matters pertaining to the county.

Justice L. J. Harber, county commissioner, has checked up Sheriff Lee Potter and will this afternoon finish checking up County Treasurer James Utterback, who also has charge of the sinking fund. These settlements will be presented for ratification tomorrow and this will be the extent of the financial business except possibly the allowance of accounts, salaries, etc., which is routine business.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has prepared his report for the year's work and shows a great deal of new work done in new gravel roads.

The report shows all new gravel road work to date but the work on old roads extends no later than November 1st. The report is as follows:

Last year no new roads were built but the total cost of road work to the county amounted to $20,000. The work this year has been great and the expenses kept down to a minimum.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, has returned from St. Louis and stated this morning that he had received no reply from Nashville, where he had written relative to the methods employed in building the jail and court house in Nashville, but that he understood the plan and would present it to the court for action. He feels sure the board will order him to go ahead for any proposition he can get to report back to the board.

The plan is to buy a site centrally located, give it to a southern company making this a specialty, and the company will build a big office building, setting aside a part of it for a modern court house and jail and fitting it out in the best style.

Yonder Girls in Peril.

Constantinople, Dec. 18.—Barton Hall, the American college for girls in the suburb of Scutari, was partially destroyed by fire. The students, including a number of boarders, were in bed when the flames were discovered. All the inmates were rescued.

STOLEN BICYCLE RECOVERED.

Recovered and Tom Tramwell Arrested for the Theft.

A lost bicycle was recovered today and Tom Tramwell, colored, who works at the St. Nicholas hotel, is in the lockup charged with having stolen it and disposed of it.

The bicycle was identified by Henry Ogilvie, white, of Sixth and Madison streets. He said he lost the wheel several weeks ago. The first purchaser of the wheel is said to have been Richard Simons, who identified Tramwell as the man who sold it to him. Simons in turn sold it to Milton Brooks, colored, and the wheel was brought to the hall to be identified.

Tramwell stated that he did not know anything about the wheel; had never seen it and that Simons was mistaken in his man.

Tramwell was locked up, being unable to give bond. The case will come up tomorrow morning in police court.

A U. S. GUN Was Found in Possession of Russia —How Did She Get It?

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 18.—The army transport Thomas, just arrived from the Orient, brought home a piece of artillery which originally belonged to the United States but which was found in the possession of the Russian forces at Port Arthur when the Japanese captured that stronghold.

The government of Japan, when they discovered the ownership of the gun, turned it over to U. S. Minister Grieson, who shipped it from Nagasaki, consigned to the arsenal at Benicia. The field piece is stamped inside the barrel, "Watervliet Arsenal, 829 pounds, No. 209, J. W. J."

The military authorities here are now wondering how this particular gun got into the hands of the Russians.

FIVE KILLED.

In Explosion of Nitroglycerine at Michigan Dynamite Works.

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 18.—Five men were killed by an explosion at the Dupont company's dynamite work here. About 1,400 pounds of nitroglycerine exploded in the mixing house, which is three miles distant from Marquette.

The explosion badly damaged the plant and caused much excitement in Marquette.

The dead are all workmen employed by the Dupont company. Of the thirty buildings in the plant few escaped damage, and some were badly wrecked.

1,000 YEARS

Given an Aged Cattle Thief in the Lone Star State.

Galveston, Tex., Dec. 18.—Mat Porter, aged 78, charged with cattle theft, was convicted at Victoria, and the jury assessed his punishment at 1,000 years in the penitentiary. As he is already in a somewhat decrepit state of health, the prisoner ran not live very much longer. The jury wished to give Porter the heaviest sentence, as he has been responsible for numerous cattle thefts in that community, but heretofore it has been almost impossible to secure the necessary evidence to convict him.

BRUTAL ASSAULT MAY MEAN GALLOWS

Negro Said to Be From Paducah Arrested at Henderson.

Held Without Bail—Evidence Said to Be Most Conclusive Against Him.

HE ALSO STOLE A WATCH

George Alexander, colored, said to be a steamboat man from Paducah, is in jail at Henderson, Ky., and it is predicted by the papers there will be hanged for criminally assaulting a negro woman, Frances Gordon, who is married and bears a good reputation. She lives near Spottsville, not far from Henderson.

Alexander claims he was on his way to Owensboro with a negro named Clements, but Clements has never been found, and a number of people who saw Alexander at various times declare he was alone. He went to the woman's house and asked for a drink of water, and learned that her husband was not at home. He returned a short time later and asked for another drink of water, and subsequently brutally assaulted her. He then said he had done enough "for them to hang me" so he would take her watch and he did. The woman was forced to flee almost in rags with her small child, to the home of neighbors.

Alexander was pursued to Henderson and shot at several times before caught, and the watch stolen from the house was found near the doorstep of the place at which he was arrested.

The evidence is strong against him and he was held without bond. The Henderson Gleaner says of the prisoner:

"Several of the local policemen stated that they had seen Alexander here before. He, however, said that he lived in Paducah and had come to this city three weeks ago. He is of medium height, unable to speak plainly and is medium dark. The watch he was alleged to have stolen from the woman was found under the doorstep of A. Waller, where he was found by Chief Negley. It was identified by the owner. Alexander denied the theft and said that 'Myth' Clements stole it from the woman and wore it back to Henderson. He did not explain how or by whom it was placed under Waller's doorstep."

NEW RULES

FORCED BY MINOR LEAGUES—

"ONE-MAN DRAFT OBTAINED."

Louisville Will Not Have a Major League Club, Says George Tebeau.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 18.—Wearing the marks of fatigue and unrelenting labor, but with the light of victory shining in his eyes, George Tebeau, the biggest figure in minor league baseball in America, returned from New York to his own stumping ground. From the big league men he has just succeeded in forcing what he and other American Association magnates have long been wanting—the one-man draft rule. Hereafter but one man can be drafted from a single club in class A, including the Eastern League, the American Association and the Southern League, by a big league team, unless the club is willing to part with other men, and the purchase price has been raised from $750 to $1,000. The rule is made absolute, so that there will be no more "try-outs and turnbacks."

The major league team which drafts a player obtains him without reserve, and can so dispose of him.

The American Association club owners will meet December 28, and the National Association of Minor Leagues meets in Chicago January 9.

When the subject of a big league team for Louisville was alluded to Mr. Tebeau "jess,uffed."

"Newspaper men in the east think people down here are Reubens when they talk about a big league club," he smiled. "No chance on earth exists for a team of that sort here, and the two best reasons I know of are Buffalo and Columbus. Both towns draw better crowds, and the big league could save money on mileage. That effectually disposes of any scheme for a big league club here."

CITY LIGHT PLANT NEEDS IMPROVEMENT

Three Plans are Suggested by Supt. Keebler, to Board Works.

It Will Cost As Much to Repair the Plant As to Increase Its Capacity.

REPORT TO BE WEDNESDAY

One of the most important municipal improvements to occupy the attention of the board of public works and the legislative boards is the street electric lighting service, and at the meeting of the board of works Wednesday afternoon, Supt. Keebler, of the city electric plant, will furnish plans for improvements of the service.

The present capacity of the plant is 150 lights, but the city is burning 161. A reporter visited the plant this morning to get some ideas on what improvements, their costs, etc., will be. Supt. Keebler furnished the gist of what his report to the board will be.

"There are three propositions to consider," he declared as he led the way to the engine room. "One will increase the capacity and costs but a few dollars than will be expended if the plant is patched up, while the other will give a greater capacity and carry with it the possibility of putting in incandescent lights for city use, if so desired.

Under the first plan we shall need the following:

One new machine $1800
One new boiler 800
Resetting boilers 500
New lines for boiler 300
One new 200 horse power engine 2200
100 new lights at $15 each 1500
Repairs to poles, lines, etc. 900
Total $8000

The total expense for the coming year to run the plant will be $12,000 with these improvements, which added will make the expense of improvements with the running expenses, $20,000. This will give the city a capacity of 250 lights.

The second plan gives the city over 400-light capacity and makes it possible to add an incandescent service, but the cost will amount to a great deal more. Under this plan the following improvements will have to be made for enclosed lamp service.

The items of expense are:
250 lamps at $17.50 $4375
One 400 horse power engine 4000
Two new boilers 1800
Rewinding one machine 250
Three new machines 5100

Total $16,425
The total running expenses for the year under this plan will amount to $12,000 making the total expense for running, improvements, etc., $28,425. The building will have to be extended for 25 feet and this will add to the expense.

"If the board desires to simply patch up the plant to run another year it will have to expend running expenses and all of $19,975, just $25 less than the first plan. The items are as follows:

Repairs to engine, overhauling feed pump, to boiler; new lines for one boiler; resetting walls for boilers, the present walls being defective and ready to fall down. This is estimated to cost $2000
Overhauling lines, poles, etc. 900
One new machine 1800
Twenty-five new lights at $15. 375

Total $2975
Repairs above stated 2000

Total $4975
"The running expenses will amount to $15,000, making a total of $19,975. This will give only the present capacity with no possibility of adding new lights."

It appears that of the three plans the first is best, as it will give the city a capacity of 100 more lights and cost but $25 approximately more than to overhaul or patch up the plant for another year. Supt. Keebler by an ingenious substitution of carbon holders has precluded the possibility of wind interfering with lights, and has furthermore done many things to add to the service. The plant needs a greater capacity, as there are petitions coming in weekly from residents who want lights. The board of works had to turn them down because the plant was taxed to its utmost capacity, and this was ordered in the middle of the present year.

The board of works does not know however what it will be able to do in the way of improving the plant. The new members of the legislative boards intend to cut down expenses as much as possible, and it is not known what they will be willing to allow for the light plant.

THE ICE

CAUSES THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI BOATS TO LAY UP.

Lee and St. Louis and Tennessee River Steamers Abandon Their Respective Trades.

The last packet that will arrive here from St. Louis for some time was the City of Sallito, which passed into the Tennessee river last week. When she returns from Florence, Ala., she will reship at Joplin and lay up for the winter, at least until there is less ice in the Mississippi river.

The upper Mississippi gets very low and early in the year the ice begins to pass out. The Lee line has withdrawn all of its boats from the St. Louis-Memphis trade.

The Gray Eagle is the only boat running out of St. Louis, all of the other big boats having to abandon their trade on account of the condition of the upper Mississippi. The Gray Eagle, it is announced, will run until after Christmas and then she will come here to go into winter quarters.

Last year the Steamer Leo laid up on December 9, and the Peters Lee, which was running to St. Louis at the time, laid up on December 15.

The Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati packets are not affected by the Mississippi river, in fact, none of the Ohio river boats have had to lay up, there being a fine boating stage and no ice below Cairo. The upper Mississippi always gets ice before the Ohio.

A Washington dispatch to yesterday's Courier Journal says:

The special board which conducted the trial of the gunboat Paducah on her cruise from New York to Newport News, has reported that the gunboat, under full load, made a satisfactory speed of 12.8 knots. Certain repairs, however, are required by her dynamo engines, and in accordance with the board's recommendation the Paducah has been ordered to the navy yard at Norfolk where the work will be done.

KENTUCKY AND HER RIVERS.

Contributing $25,000,000 a year to federal revenue, standing fourth among the states as an income producer for Uncle Sam, Kentucky has a right to generous consideration from the treasury of the United States, says the Louisville Herald. If we got this year but $25,000,000 for the Ohio river and tributaries out of $250,000,000 we pay in ten years into the national treasury, what substantial good we could achieve for state and nation! A convention of the National River and Harbor Association is to be held in Washington on January 15 next. The largest gathering in the history of the association is looked for by the promoters of the assembly. Delegates from the Ohio valley, the Tennessee valley, the Mississippi valley and other important fluvial as well as lake regions will be there. There will be few if, in fact, any states unrepresented. The association has in hand the solution of problems national in character, motive and design.

Louisville ought to be particularly well represented. Republicans as well as Democrats of high business standing should be sent. Business men like Morris B. Belknap, Theodore Ahrens, C. C. Menzel and others of that class can best present the case of Kentucky to an appreciative and discriminating assembly. This is a case whose fortunes largely depend on its advocates.

There is a movement in Washington, to which The Herald has already called attention to suppress for this year a rivers and harbors appropriation bill. The Washington convention will show Congress and the country that a resumption of waterway improvements for a year or more would be a grave and even dangerous step backward.

We have been spending of late years $18,000,000 for river and harbor improvements, or $7,000,000 less than Kentucky gives in one year to the national treasury, and of the $5,000,000 yearly on rivers and harbors all over the country Kentucky never gets but a bagatelle. What a howl if any one proposed to cut down the pension outlay of $150,000,000 a year or the naval outlay of $60,000,000 annually! Yet Kentuckians will be supposed to swallow in silence the total cutting off of the miserably small voted for her river improvements. No party rule nor factional lash shall keep The Herald silent on the face of an outrage so provoking, wasteful and atrocious.

Some of the Democrats seem inclined to "rub it in" on us by claiming that the Republicans "held the key to the situation" in the election of officers by the general council. We did not state who was on the slate. We did publish a list of names and tipped them for winners, and in saying that the Republicans "held the key to the situation," we did not err. We simply did not count on such a high class of politics being played to defeat fairness and honesty. We did not believe that there was any Democrat in Paducah capable of such a trick, and for that reason didn't undertake it, or figure on it in predicting that the Republicans would win. They had as many members of the general council as the Democrats, could vote for their men indefinitely, which would defer the election until after the first of the year, when all the officials will be Republicans. If the Democrats are proud of their wonderful feat, however, in preventing the election of the Republicans, and of their manner of accomplishing the election of their own candidates, we presume they are justified in boasting about it. We should much rather the Democrats have the credit for such a victory, than that the Republicans should have it recorded against them.

The Democrats in the general council know how the election of two of the six officials was brought about last Friday. They know that it was done by fraud, and no matter who is guilty of it, or who is innocent, it will not prevent every honest man who wants to do the square thing, from approving or disapproving the "coup." The boards are just as they were then—ten and ten. Why not declare the election of these two officials off, and hold other elections? The Democrats will have the same chance they had before, and the Republicans will have no advantages to which they were not entitled before. These elections will not be legal unless officially recorded, and they cannot be officially recorded until the minutes of the meeting at which they took place are approved and signed. It is in the power of the Republican members to prevent the approval of these minutes. If the Democratic members do not approve of the way the elections in question were brought about, however, they can take the initiative by suggesting a reconsideration, and show the people where they stand. If none of them does it, he will have to face the accusation of secretly approving of the miserable affair.

Some are complaining because the Democratic members of Congress from Kentucky have not fared so well as they might have desired in the committee apportionments. They have probably done well enough, however. There is no need to put Democrats on any more committees than necessary, as they obstruct everything when they get a chance and do little except try to harness and delay the administration. The country is Republican and the administration is Republican, and what it wants to do is carry out Republican principles, something that the Democrats neither understand nor approve of. Why should the Democrats, then, be accorded any more courtesies than they show? Kentucky, if the people would elect Republican congressmen, would always fare well on congressional committees, and Kentucky could get a great deal more than now, because if the congressmen were Republicans they would be put on more committees and be in a better position to demand more. The people of Kentucky elect their Democratic congressmen, and should not complain if the preference is given the Republican congressmen by a Republican administration.

The court of appeals Saturday knocked out Louisville's new license tax, which may not in itself be significant, as another ordinance may to some extent rectify the error. The law governing such things is thus laid down by the appellate court, however: "By the ordinance in question it will be observed that a sliding scale is made to merchants and manufacturers and that the tax decreases with the amount of the sales or manufactured product. In other words, the merchant or manufacturer of small means is made to pay a tax at a higher rate than the merchant or manufacturer of larger means. This constitution allows no such discrimination. The rich and the poor must be taxed alike. There cannot be one rate for the larger merchant and a different rate for a poor neighbor." If this applies to the city licenses as well, it will probably affect Paducah.

The people of Kentucky continue to get new evidence every day of the inefficiency of its judiciary. The court of appeals has just ended another term, and during that term 110 of about 287 cases reviewed, were reversed. This means that nearly fifty percent of the judgments of the lower courts were erroneous. Is it any wonder that there should be a constant effort to take cases to federal court for trial? It is a sad commentary on the ability of Kentucky judges to learn that so many of their decisions are wrong, or else that our court of appeals is not capable of interpreting the law. It is bound to be one or the other. Either the lower courts are wrong, or the court of appeals is wrong. It makes little difference to the person whose life or property is in danger which it is. He is the one who has to foot the bills and suffer the consequences.

A cannon captured at Fort Arthur by the Japanese turned out to be a United States weapon. It is not known how it happened to be in possession of the Russians, but is plain enough that they didn't capture it.

ENOUGH OF IT.

(Owensboro Inquirer, Ind.)

Surely there can be no seriousness in the attempt to place the statue of Goebel in the hall of fame. While he lived only a few satellites recognized or pretended to recognize in him anything but a politician, and that ability ending to methods that could hardly commend themselves to men who recognized fairness and good faith as principles that were worth observing. He possessed not a single characteristic of the great man except determination to achieve his ends. In the great man that determination would work itself out in a sort of a plane that would command respect as well as admiration and which would redound to his honor when the goal was won. In Goebel it took the shape of anything and everything that could promise success and he even appeared at his greatest strength when pursuing some devious path toward his object. Magnanimity is a part of the great man. He would soon succeed attained by such means as Goebel used and permitted to be used in the Music Hall convention, for instance.

It is difficult to say as little as will suffice in considering this subject, but once for all the selection of the Clay in the hall of fame would lay a mark of shame on Kentucky, which has so many names worthy to shine in marble as they do in the printed page. Let us hear no more of Goebel in this connection. If his worshippers want to continue their idolatry, much of which is as insincere as Goebel was insincere, let them do it, but let not the great majority of the people of Kentucky suffer for their idolatry.

Madisonville Thieves.

Madisonville, Ky., Dec. 18.—Two burglaries which were without profit to the burglars occurred here when Thompson & Hankins' and the Madisonville Flour mills were entered and ransacked by thieves. J. W. Thompson, of Thompson & Hankins, and George H. Johnson, manager of the Madisonville Milling company, stated Saturday that the thieves were evidently disappointed in not finding what they were looking for, as nothing was missing in either mill.

At the Madisonville mill the safe was opened and the contents scattered over the floor. The cash box was torn loose but it contained nothing of value. The combination of the safe was broken several years ago by burglars and has never been repaired. The company keeping nothing in the safe but books and papers and using merely the ordinary lever lock to keep the door closed in case of fire.

MR. L. P. BALTHASER DIES AT HOME HERE

A Well Known Man Succumbs After a Long Illness.

Death of Former Resident in Cincinnati—Other Deaths of Interest Here.

MRS. WALLACE DIES ST. JOHN'S

Mr. Louis Paul Balthasar, one of Paducah's best known and most highly respected citizens, died at his home, corner Seventh and Madison streets, Sunday morning at 5 o'clock after a lingering illness. He had been ill for the past two years but confined to his bed but two weeks before his demise. He suffered from a complication of diseases which baffled the physicians from the start, and he was conscious only at short intervals during the two weeks of his last confinement.

The deceased was born in Magdeburg, Prussia, in 1863, and was 42 years of age. He came to this country when he was five years old and lived in St. Louis, where he was educated in the public schools. He learned paper hanging and decorating, and came to Paducah fifteen years ago and worked for James Gleaves & Sons, at his trade.

He was married in 1893 to Miss Maude Kruger, a popular and prominent young woman of the city. The following year he embarked in business for himself and did well until taken ill. He had business reverses on account of his frequent illness, but bore it all with patience and cheerfulness.

He leaves a mother, who came here a short time ago to be at his bedside. Besides her, he leaves a wife, and four children, Louis, John, Max and Lillian Balthasar. He leaves five brothers and one sister. They are Fred, Carl, Will, Max and Otto, all of St. Louis, except the fourth, sister, Miss Adele Klock, also, lives in San Francisco, California. His brother Otto formerly lived in Paducah. The deceased was a member of the Golden Cross order, and attended the Baptist church.

The deceased left many sincere friends to mourn his loss. He was a well-known, popular man, with many friends.

Death came quite suddenly, and many of his friends did not know of it until this morning, when the news was circulated down town.

The funeral was conducted this afternoon at the residence, Rev. J. S. Cheek officiating. The burial was at Oak Grove. The Golden Cross order had charge of the funeral.

Died in Cincinnati.

Mr. Alexander Kirkland Saturday evening received a telegram from Cincinnati announcing the death there of Miss Cora L. Von Tress at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Mackey. The deceased was daughter of the late Mrs. G. E. Rabb, who died last summer near Kuttawa, and formerly lived here, going some years ago to Cincinnati to reside with her sister, Mrs. Mackey. She leaves several sisters. Mrs. Alexander Kirkland, of Paducah; Mrs. Joseph Mackey, of Cincinnati; Mrs. W. J. Jones and Miss Nina B. Rabb, of Chicago. Mrs. Mackey and Miss Rabb arrived here last evening accompanying the body.

Miss Von Tress was a woman of broad culture and exceptional charm of mind; her fine traits of character and lovable nature made her widely loved. She had many friends in Paducah where her early life was spent.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Grace Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. Da-

Burgess, of Johnson City, Ill., also survive him. Mr. Burgess served through the Civil war under Forrest's command. The remains were interred in La Center cemetery.

Died in Mississippi.

Mrs. Ann A. Lore, aged 82, died from general debility at her home in Greenville, Miss., and the remains arrived here today to be taken to New Liberty, Ill., for burial. CONCRETE ARCH

IS SUGGESTED FOR ISLAND CREEK INSTEAD OF BRIDGE.

It is claimed it would not cost much more and would last forever.

A number of prominent citizens of Mechanicsburg are anxious for the city to construct a concrete arch over Island Creek to Mechanicsburg. Instead of the bridge that the city and some car company are talking of building.

City Engineer Washington has plans in his office, with figures, etc., but some of the members of the legislative boards claim that the city could not find dirt enough to fill in with after the arch was built.

The city has spent $20,000 or more in recent years on Island creek bridge, and a concrete arch would last forever. It would not require much time, and would not cost over double the cost of a bridge.

Some argue that the city could never get dirt enough to fill in after the arch was built over the creek, but others claim that this could easily be done, especially as a great deal of street reconstruction has yet to be done, and the city has been giving away tons and tons of dirt for the mere carrying away.

It is understood that this kind of a structure over the creek is preferred by the street car company, which has agreed to pay half of the cost of a new structure.

Similar concrete arches are used by all railroads, and there are thousands of them in the country. It is most likely that the city engineer will be asked to recommend an arch instead of a bridge, and let the matter come up in regular form. The plans and estimates City Engineer Washington has were furnished about two years ago by a New York company that wanted to build an arch, and nothing was ever done with them.

MANY INDICTMENTS

Found Against President Men in Knox County.

London, Ky., Dec. 18.—Great excitement has been caused at Barbourville over the finding of a dozen or more indictments for bribery in the late Republican primary election against some prominent men of Knox county.

Commonwealth's Attorney William Lewis, who lives here, has come home from Barbourville, and said that the following indictments had been brought by the grand jury, and that he himself had prepared them:

Elmer D. Sampson, county judge-elect; C. C. Smith, county clerk-elect; Ben P. Parker, school superintendent-elect; George Buchanan, jailer-elect; J. W. Hepburn, a well-known salesman for the Elizabethtown Milling company; Dr. Hersfield, a well known physician; Pat Black, and Hays Green, prominent politicians, besides some others less prominent.

All these men are charged with either furnishing or receiving money to be used in the primary election held in November, 1904, a little over a year ago. Although three courts have passed before this term since the primary election was held and the grand jury was given the same instructions, no indictments for this offense were made.

It is well known that these indictments are direct results of special efforts of Judge Paulkner, and consequently the men indicted and their friends are furiously indignant at the judge, and some of them publicly threaten him and declare he will be assassinated if he pushes the prosecutions further.

Princeton wedding elaborate affair.

A telegram in the Louisville society notes of Saturday says:

"Rev. Phil C. Frayser and Miss Mayme Pettit, two of Princeton's most popular society people, were married Tuesday at the M. B. church by the Rev. G. W. Hummel. The church was beautifully decorated and every seat was filled, while the aisles were crowded. Miss Louise Pettit was maid of honor, and Mr. Fred Elliott, of London, Kan., was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Frayser left on the early Wednesday morning train for Louisville, thence to Asheville, N. C., and other points in the south, after which they will be at home to their friends in this city.

"One of the most elaborate society events in connection with the Frayser-Pettit wedding party, was that given by Miss Pettit at her home on College street last Sunday, the occasion being a dinner party in honor of the bride party. The parlors and dining-room were beautifully and elaborately decorated with smilax and white and pink carnations, which presented a scene long to be remembered. Covers were laid for sixteen couples.

"Another society event of worthy note, was the entertainment given by Miss Sullina Smith Monday evening. A three-course lunch was served."

The bride is popular in Paducah, where she has visited frequently. Miss Hattie Hisey of this city, was an attendant at the wedding.

Very Little Business Transacted Today.

The Docket Caught Up With Before Noon—Police Court Proceeded.

LITTLE IN THE MINOR COURTS.

Little business was transacted in circuit court today, the regular docket having been caught up with and court adjourned before noon.

It was a day of acquittals in comparison with the previous days when so many convictions were made. Three acquittals were recorded today. The are:

Sam Crouch, charged with breaking into the coal barn of E. W. Pratt and stealing coal. The jury acted in this case and brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Charlie Wheeler, colored, charged with being implicated in the theft of $65 and some jewelry from Mrs. Mike Isomann, was found not guilty and the indictment dismissed.

The continuance was secured on account of the absence of importance witnesses. Scott remains on bond, his father being surety in the sum of $2,500.

THE SCHOOLS

BOARD WILL HOLD A CALLED MEETING THURSDAY

A Number of Christmas Entertainments to be Held This Week.

The school board will meet in special session Thursday for the purpose of allowing salaries to the teachers. This is done as a special favor to the teachers who need their money before the holidays.

The teachers have been wanting to get pay for the week during the holidays but no action had been taken by the board. It was decided however that they be paid for those four days and this will come in extra this year for the teachers.

This week there will be several Christmas entertainments in the different school buildings but the majority of them will be held on Friday afternoon. These are in the primary and grammar grades, principally.

The schools will close Friday afternoon until the second day of the new year. The term will close in January on the 26th and the new term will begin three days later on the 29th. The teachers have had easy sailing this year and report one of the best terms in the history of their work. The pupils and teachers are working harmoniously and everything points to the most successful year in the history of the schools.

It is said that pledges have been secured from three-fourths of the members of both houses in support of such a bill, and that there will be no doubt about its passing.

NEW DECISIONS.

Violation of Revenue Laws Forfeits Property—Alcohol Shipping Fermented Malt Liquor.

In accord with a recent decision of the circuit court of appeals, the commissioner of internal revenue is assigned the right in treasury decision, No. 955, received at the custom house to order a "seizure" of property when in his opinion based upon information deemed reliable, the property has become forfeited through violation of the internal revenue laws. The note appended to the decision states that the rights of the commissioner to give such an order to a collector is in the law a reasonable cause and a protection to him against damages for such action. The decision of the court was a reversal of the case of J. T. Kynes, a distiller of Biba, Va. Park Avenue, in July, 1901, the collector of that district seized property of Kynes for alleged violation of the laws. Kynes brought suit and was sustained in the lower court, but that decision was recently reversed.

Treasury decision, No. 956, relating to the shipment of fermented liquors and is as follows:

Fermented malt liquors cannot be shipped under the name of cream of hops. The decision goes on to say that any fancy or particular name desired may be used, but the statutory name must also appear on the package. Such names as "hop ten" were specified as not sufficient.

NORMAL SCHOOLS

Are Desired by Educational Improvement Association.

The Educational Improvement commission of Kentucky, has sent out 8,000 petitions to the school teachers of Kentucky, to be filled out and returned by them before January 1. The object of the petition, which is addressed to the general assembly at Frankfort, is to secure, as far as practical, the sentiment of the citizens of the state on the subject of state normal schools. The commission claims the present provision for the education of teachers in the state is inadequate, and that the existing conditions are largely responsible for a considerable part of the percentage of illiteracy in the state. They claim that Kentucky is far behind her sister states in the matter of suitable training of teachers, and that on account of this, the children do not receive the education to which they are entitled.

The Educational Improvement commission is composed of some of the most prominent men in the state, including men of all professions, who will co-operate in the movement for the establishing a normal school of schools in the state. It is understood that a number of the most prominent leaders of both houses are in favor of the movement.

GASOLINE BOATS

May Be Made to Conform to Marine Laws.

Announcement officially from Washington that an effort is being made by rivermen to have a bill passed placing the gasoline boats under 15 tons, as well as over, under the operation of the laws regarding steamboat inspection is no surprise to local river men, who believe that a change will be beneficial.

It is declared that the gasoline boats, which are not compelled to have licensed captains nor experienced and qualified engineers, are a danger to traffic and a menace to legitimate underlings. While other boats are required to have complete lifesaving apparatus, nothing of the sort is required of the gasoline boats, which attach barges to themselves and carry freight and passengers in as large amount as do the regular boats. The danger comes from allowing them to navigate without inspection or responsible engineers, and this places regular boats at a disadvantage.

While the feeling here has been strong the present effort for reform originates from Evansville. It is believed that the desired changes in the present law will be made.

I. C. Man Killed at Central City.

Central City, Ky., Dec. 18.—Jasper Ward was instantly killed here while coaling an engine on the I. C. railroad. It was his duty to open the chute that supplied the engines in the yard with coal, and it seems that he lost his footing at the time of opening the coal gate and the supply of eight tons fell on him, burying him in the center, and it was nearly thirty minutes before his body was extricated, and life was extinct. Ward was unmarried and lived with a sister here, and had been in the employ of the railroad for quite a while.

Nothing is appreciated more by the men than a nice pair of our House Slippers.

Shot Companion in His Sleep. Louisville, Ky., Dec. 18.—Archibald Harris, a negro cab driver, was shot and killed by Louis Whitney, also a cabman. It is supposed Whitney did the shooting while asleep. He was yesterday presented with a hammerless revolver and spent the remainder of the day exhibiting it, and expressing his pride over the gift.

The possession of the weapon is believed to have occupied his mind so completely that he dreamed of it all night, and while asleep got up from his couch at 5:30 o'clock, and imagining that an attempt was being made on him, fired on his phantom assailant. The bullet struck Harris, who was asleep at the time.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1898, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

His face suffused with amusement. "I don't think we are strangers to each other, Mr. Greentree," he observed quietly. "I dare say we understand one another better than appears. If, however, it be any relief to your conscience, I assure you that I am much better for your company. But," he added dryly, "I should be the last to hold you if your duty claims you elsewhere."

We looked at each other for a moment, in which time I noted a twinkle gleaming in his eyes, and then simultaneously, I think, we burst forth into laughter.

"Come, come, I think I understand, Mr. Greentree," said he, "and the understanding notes another score to you in my stick. I admit that you have a right to something further. I freely confess it, only I am an old man and must take my time. Are we agreed?"

"My dear sir," said I hastily, "I would not press you for the world, and I am no more impatient than any honest man who hopes that he might be of some service to a friend in trouble."

"You are very good," he returned gently. "You can be silent, and you can proffer a question at the right time. I think all the better of you. And for what you say of friendship, why, I am sincerely obliged to you, and I think you can render me an invaluable aid."

"I have no warmer wish," I answered, and I turned the horse's head forth with upon the road to the Gwent.

We reached the castle in the twilight, but it was not until after dinner that Mr. Greentree reverted to the subject of our conversation. He was very bright during the meal and talked with more wit and philosophy than I had yet seen in him. But when he had finished he drew away from the table and said more soberly:

"I have had important news today, Mr. Greentree, or, rather, I have gathered from several signs that there is important news for myself. I had thought that it would be unnecessary to trouble you in regard to my affairs until tomorrow, but it will be best to-night. It is more wise to be prepared. If you will pardon me for a short time I will return directly, and in the meantime I dare say you can amuse yourself with one of those venerable books," concluding with a glance toward the shelves which occupied the recesses of the dining room.

When he had gone I obeyed him mechanically, taking down several of the dusty volumes, though my mind at that moment was very far from their contents. Indeed, I could make no long pretense of interest in them and shortly afterward pushed open the casement and looked out on the park. The dusk had settled on the forest at last. All lay very still.

Suddenly a sound rose on the silence, indefinite, but disturbing. For a second I kept my post, with my head hanging from the window, musingly as to the direction of the cry. Then I grew aware that it came from within the house, and hurriedly withdrawing myself, I stood up still within the room and listened. Again it rose, some what shrill and ghastly, echoing from the floor above. Now, the dining room, as I have explained, was upon the ground floor, and Mr. Greentree's room, as well as my room and most of the living chambers, was above it on the northern wing of the castle. I ran quickly therefore through the doorway and bounded up the stone staircase three steps at a time. When I reached the corridor I made straight for my host's room without any reason, but under the guidance of mere impulse.

The door stood ajar, and I thrust it open. A single lamp streamed faintly upon the room and its contents, blinding with a silver radiance the old man's body where it lay stretched upon the carpet.

I knelt swiftly and raised his head, loosening his coat and waistcoat. But as I did so the movement brought the face into the glow of the lamp, and I saw it was struck with a deadly pallor. I lifted him upon the bed and drew a pool of blood for the housekeeper. While he was coming, which was not a matter of more than a minute, my glance ran around the bedroom. Could it be possible that there was foul play? I could see no signs of violence upon the body—for that it was

Let's face it—I had no doubt, since the horrible color of the face had been revealed to me. The window stood open, but there was nothing significant in that. I glanced out, but if any one had escaped that way the falling night had long since swallowed him up.

When I turned again to the body I noticed that one of the hands was clutching a paper. This I gently withdrew, and as I did so the housekeeper knocked at the door and called upon her master in an agitated voice.

"Come in," I said in low tones. "Your master is very ill. Where is the nearest doctor?"

"At Llanellon, sir," said she tremulously. "Send the man posthaste," I ordered. "Let him gallop all the way."

"Is he?" she asked, and stared at me fearfully.

"Yes, I fear so," I answered.

CHAPTER IV.

THE events of that day, together with the two surprising sequels, to which I shall come presently, set me for the whole of a week upon the horns of doubt and perplexity. I was embarrassed by so strange a sequence of accidents. Some- where behind and still aloof, but self- confessed, as it were, by the conduct and deportment of my unfortunate host, hung the shadows of a mystery to which I had no clue. It was plain that he had a secret which he kept very private and to which I should have been admitted on the very eve of his unhappy death. That death, so to say, had robbed me of my opportunity, and I could see no means to regain it. My dim suspicion that he had come by his end through violence was dissipated soon enough. The doctor certified to heart disease, from which he told me that Mr. Greentree had long suffered.

"He might have gone off any moment, Mr. Greentree," he explained. "A shock, a violent exertion, even a strong emotion—this would suffice to determine the climax of the disease."

A shock! The word lingered somehow in my thoughts without particular reason. The cries I had heard might well enough have been drawn from the old man in his last pains, and yet I had the impression that such deaths were usually instant, if not painless. Those shrieks had been prolonged and reiterated.

And here it was that I had my first surprise. Under the stress of the painful emotions of that time I had forgotten the leaf of paper which I had taken from the dead fingers. But while I was revolving the circumstances of the mystery the recollection of it flashed suddenly upon me, and feeling in my pockets I discovered it where it had remained since the entrance of the housekeeper. It was broad daylight, and the doctor from Llanellon had just gone from the house. I laid the paper upon my bed-room table and studied it carefully. It was of stiff parchment and stained yellow with the dust and dirt of years, much worn in parts and its margin gnawed as if by mice, or rats. The characters were faded and well nigh illegible, but I made out, with some difficulty, the faint and unobscured parts. This was how the document ran:

"Turning this corner, it is necessary to proceed upon the passage for the space of some thirty footsteps and in the close thereof to pause and survey the walls. If ye will then duly determine a height of five feet from the footway, thereupon will be disclosed a small knob, the which revolving will give access to a large cupboard within ye wall. Observe carefully upon the back of the cupboard and where the oaken panels adjoin the stone. Here ye will perceive a spring, the which pushing a doorway shall open behind, giving entry to an interior chamber. A flight of stairway leadeth thence."

Here the parchment had suffered so grossly at the hands of time or from the assaults of its natural enemies that the characters became unreadable and finally faded.

It was plain that this sheet had some connection with the discomfiture Mr. Greentree had intended to make to me, but beyond this conclusion I could not go. And so after a desultory study of the ancient characters I put it aside, looking it more by habit than of intentional prudence in my private letter case.

I now stood humbly charged with the last offices to my dead friend. An inquest was inevitable in the circumstances, but it was no more than a formality, and my evidence, with that of the housekeeper, Mrs. Main, and the doctor from Llanellon, was sufficient to close the investigation. It was not until these ceremonies were over that I experienced my second surprise, a surprise which, although I had become somewhat acquainted with the eccentricities of the man, fell upon me like a thunderbolt. Upon the morning after the funeral I rode into Raymond to pay a visit to the lawyer, Greentree by name, who, I understood, acted on Mr. Greentree's behalf. I regarded this as the last of my ineluctable duties, which discharged, I was free once more to resume the tour which had been so strangely interrupted. Mr. Greentree, the little fat, bowing solicitor whom I had already seen, received me with polite ceremony. His face wore a mingled expression of solicitude and satisfaction as he fussed in a nervous manner with his papers.

"A most melancholy end, Mr. Greentree," said he, shaking his head. "So sudden, and a sterling, honorable man, sir. Well, we must all go some day."

I put the question for which I had come and in response was saluted with a stare of astonishment.

"Any assistance, Mr. Greentree?" he echoed, surveying me, with his mouth open. "Any assistance? Well, I suppose you can be of some assistance."

And he chuckled heartily, as if inviting me to join in his joke.

I told him that I was leaving the district that same day and would like to know in what way I might aid him, seeing that it was improbable that I should revisit the neighborhood.

"Then you do not intend to reside at the castle?" he asked.

"There was a certain tone of condemnation in his voice which, though I was at a loss to account for, I could not but recognize."

"Why, certainly not!" said I. "Why in the name of fortune should I? My only idea was, for Mr. Greentree's sake, to smooth his affairs for his successors."

(To Be Continued.)

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. GOOD WORK Done Daily in Paducah—Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Paducah still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsements by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Mrs. George Rohnla, of 726 Tennessee street, says: "For three years my back was lame and ached severely, particularly under the shoulder blades,—despite the use of medicines. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills getting them at Alvey & List's drug store. They are easy to take, they cure you without causing any annoyance, and if I can judge from my present condition, when they cure you stay cured."

the walls. If ye will then duly determine a height of five feet from the footway, thereupon will be disclosed a small knob, the which revolving will give access to a large cupboard within ye wall. Observe carefully upon the back of the cupboard and where the

Here the parchment had suffered so grossly at the hands of time or from the assaults of its natural enemies that the characters became unreadable and finally faded.

It was plain that this sheet had some connection with the discomfiture Mr. Greentree had intended to make to me, but beyond this conclusion I could not go. And so after a desultory study of the ancient characters I put it aside, looking it more by habit than of intentional prudence in my private letter case.

I now stood humbly charged with the last offices to my dead friend. An inquest was inevitable in the circumstances, but it was no more than a formality, and my evidence, with that of the housekeeper, Mrs. Main, and the doctor from Llanellon, was sufficient to close the investigation. It was not until these ceremonies were over that I experienced my second surprise, a surprise which, although I had become somewhat acquainted with the eccentricities of the man, fell upon me like a thunderbolt. Upon the morning after the funeral I rode into Raymond to pay a visit to the lawyer, Greentree by name, who, I understood, acted on Mr. Greentree's behalf. I regarded this as the last of my ineluctable duties, which discharged, I was free once more to resume the tour which had been so strangely interrupted. Mr. Greentree, the little fat, bowing solicitor whom I had already seen, received me with polite ceremony. His face wore a mingled expression of solicitude and satisfaction as he fussed in a nervous manner with his papers.

"A most melancholy end, Mr. Greentree," said he, shaking his head. "So sudden, and a sterling, honorable man, sir. Well, we must all go some day."

I put the question for which I had come and in response was saluted with a stare of astonishment.

"Any assistance, Mr. Greentree?" he echoed, surveying me, with his mouth open. "Any assistance? Well, I suppose you can be of some assistance."

And he chuckled heartily, as if inviting me to join in his joke.

I told him that I was leaving the district that same day and would like to know in what way I might aid him, seeing that it was improbable that I should revisit the neighborhood.

"Then you do not intend to reside at the castle?" he asked.

"There was a certain tone of condemnation in his voice which, though I was at a loss to account for, I could not but recognize."

"Why, certainly not!" said I. "Why in the name of fortune should I? My only idea was, for Mr. Greentree's sake, to smooth his affairs for his successors."

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from asphyxiation."

DR. PINKERTON RESIGNS AS PASTOR

Popular First Christian Church Minister to Leave.

He Will Devote a Year or More to Evangelical Work in Middle States.

OTHER NEWS OF CHURCHES

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, pastor of the First Christian church, corner Seventh and Jefferson streets, yesterday afternoon resigned and will devote his time for the next year or two to evangelical work.

Dr. Pinkerton came to Paducah November 1, 1893, from Newtown, Ky., and accepted the pulpit at the First Christian church. For twelve years he has done excellent work both to his church and generally throughout the city. During the past few years he has once or twice attempted to resign from the pulpit, but the congregation refused to accept his resignation.

This time, however, Dr. Pinkerton refused to let the members of his church act, resigning permanently effective January 1 with no appeal. He did this in order to take up work agreed on in the evangelical line, a work he has been doing for the past several months with great success.

Dr. Pinkerton stated today that he had agreed to take up this work and devote at least a year's time to it. He will open in Kenton, O., the first Sunday in the new year for a series of meetings. He will remain there one week and from there go to Hiram, O. He will work principally in Ohio and other middle states and expects to meet with a great deal of success.

Since his residence in Paducah Rev. Pinkerton has made countless friends and acquaintances who will regret to learn of his action but will wish him unbounded success in his new work. His family will remain here for the present.

The services yesterday at the First Baptist church were marked by the deepest interest and fervor. Evangelist G. C. Cates of Louisville, preached to a crowded house at the three services, 11 a. m., 2 p. m., and 7 p. m., and Rev. G. W. Hill conducted an overflow meeting in the lecture room of the church downstairs. There were 10 to 15 additions to the church at both the morning and evening services, and several professions in the afternoon.

So much interest is being evinced in the work that the services will be continued this week and as long as a soul can be saved.

Services will be held each day and night as usual. Personal work will be done in visiting the saloons, this afternoon, and several services will be held. Mr. Cates is an earnest and consecrated man and his work is telling in the city. This is the first week of the revival and there is no decrease of interest, but an increase each day, and it is one of the most widespread revivals the city has ever known.

The Senior Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church will hold an especial Christmas service next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school annex of the church. It will take the place of the regular church service. Miss Virginia Nowell, the leader, has arranged a most delightful and interesting program with Christmas literary and musical features. The Christ-child in music, the Christ-child in art, and other world-wide influences will be the program divisions.

Services were held yesterday at the First Presbyterian church for the first time in several weeks. The church has been in the hands of the decorators during that time. It is looking very attractive, and is harmonious in the coloring of the walls.

Rev. J. W. Cantrell of Hickory Grove preached yesterday at the Mechanicburg M. E. church, which is his charge every first and third Sunday. He is very much liked by his congregation and is a strong preacher.

There was no preaching last evening at the German Lutheran church. Rev. A. C. Ilten, the pastor, went to Galesburg to conduct service.

Carl Beck, who was leader of the Kentucky orchestra here soon after the theatre opened, is now leader of the orchestra at the Planters Hotel at St. Louis. He has a melodrama, it is stated in the papers, which a St. Louis manager will produce in a short time at one of the St. Louis theatres.

STILL A MYSTERY

WHO TURNED IN FIRE ALARM AND SENT FAKE MESSAGE.

Quiet Work is Being Done, However—Exposure is Possible, If Not Probable.

Nothing has yet been learned of the identity of those who called Councilman S. A. Hill from a meeting of the general council Friday night by a fake message. It is possible, however, that it will be ascertained from what telephone the message was sent, and in this way the identity of the perpetrator eventually discovered.

It is stated today that it is "customary" for the proceedings of the general council to be ratified by the board of aldermen only, but no reason is assigned for it. None of the officials asked about it were able to tell why the members of the council participate in a joint meeting and are not permitted to hear read and pass on the minutes of their official acts.

Mayor Yelver said today that he did not know what the law was, but that his recollection is that the city solicitor advised that it was necessary for only the aldermanic board to approve the proceedings of joint meetings.

City Clerk Henry Soley said he didn't know anything about what authority there was for it, but that the record of meetings of the boards in joint session was always kept in the aldermanic book, and was approved only by the aldermanic board. He said he did not know why members of the council were not accustomed to hear read and approved, records of their own official acts.

The only point is that until the records of Friday night's meeting are approved and thus become official, there will be nothing official to show for the election of the officials chosen at the meeting. A defeated candidate for office could bring an injunction suit against his successful opponent to prevent his discharging the duties, alleging that he had not been elected. The successful candidate, until the records are approved and become official, will have nothing that any court would recognize to show that he was ever elected.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot is another prominent Democrat to denounce the trick by which the Democrats were able to entice away a Republican member. He said today that it was an outrageous trick, and that any Democrat who had a hand in it ought to be ashamed of himself.

It is talked on the quiet that the perpetrators may be nearer exposure than they anticipate. There is considerable suspicious evidence already known, and while it may never be shown that there was any concerted knowledge.

PRINCETON GIRL

It Was Who Married Son of Millionaire Brown.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 18.—The story of the marriage of Will Brown, the deceased son of the late Capt. S. S. Brown, to Miss Grace McGoodwin has not been given accurately. Young Brown, ambitious to learn railroading from the ground up, after an apprenticeship in the shops, took a place as engineer on the Ohio Valley road, now a division of the Illinois Central, which was then principally owned by his father, and ran a locomotive between Henderson and Princeton. At Princeton he met Miss McGoodwin, a member of an old family of Western Kentucky, and after an extended courtship they were married.

Capt. Brown was fully aware of the son's engagement and attended the wedding. After a tour of a few weeks the couple returned to Princeton, the bridegroom ill of typhoid fever. Within eight weeks after his wedding day he died.

Capt. Brown being childless became much attached to his son's young widow. He urged her to make her home with him in Pittsburgh, but she preferred to remain with her relatives, and he bought for her a comfortable home in Princeton and provided well for her. Mrs. Brown is a sister of Mrs. T. A. Padley, of Owensboro, and has often visited here.

CAR FAMINE

Is Now About Over, Especially in Kentucky.

The scarcity of freight cars in Kentucky at least, has about been overcome through vigorous efforts put forward by the railroads to secure business for the cars bound from the south to the north. The chief difficulty during the famine in Louisville and Kentucky was the inability of the roads to get cars out of the south. The business in that territory was heavy and the southern lines would not allow the cars to go north unless they were loaded.

Several special freight solicitors were placed in the south by the various lines and a good northern business was secured. In consequence the cars have been brought to Kentucky in sufficient numbers to guarantee the shipment of all freight without unnecessary delay. The situation of the grain dealers has been materially relieved.

A nice silk waist makes a most acceptable Xmas present and our line offers quite a choice in price and pattern.

NEW PIPE BOUGHT.

County Officials Bought Eleven Car Loads in St. Louis.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson and Justice Thompson, returned yesterday from St. Louis, where they went to purchase pipe. They decided that pipe could be bought cheaper in the fall and winter, when there was not a great demand for it, than in spring and summer, and claim that their theory was correct.

They purchased eleven car loads and secured an agreement to purchase more later on, if it is desired, at the same price, and the total cost of the eleven carloads will be about $1,000. The pipe is to be used for drainage in next year's county road work.
